Council secures market futures

A new method of standardising the booking and land use system for the Shire's well-known monthly markets will result in a secure future for the long-running local events.

Held at a number of locations across the Shire including Candelo, Merimbula and Littleton Gardens— these three markets have until now operated under a less formal agreement with Council as manager of the Crown Reserves where they are held.

We understand that formalising traditional agreements can appear a little over the top to some long term tenants, and to address these concerns we will be progressively meeting with representatives of the three Crown Reserve market organisations to address the most effective process of moving forward.

With secure agreements in place, the markets in the Shire will continue to be major drawcards for locals and visitors alike.

Plants go unguarded at Cuttagee

Plant guards and timber stakes have been stolen from the Cuttagee Point revegetation project being undertaken by Bermagui Dune Care with assistance from Bega Valley Shire Council.

The project is replanting native vegetation on some of the cleared areas of the headland to provide habitat for wildlife and to improve the look and feel of this rugged coastal environment and without the guards, the young plants are unlikely to survive in the harsh coastal position.

The green coloured guards were triangular and made from corflute, and chosen for their strength to give increased protection to new plantings at this windy and salty site. If you have any information, please contact Council.
